

Imagine warm summer days, camping in a beautiful deep-shaded forest while jamming all day with your friends. This is a relaxing event for musicians who like lots of jamming and hanging out with old and new friends. Tents and RV's are welcomed.

All bluegrass and old time players are welcome, and bring your families too. Pendarvis Farm is a beautiful location with miles of trails to explore. Regardless of the distance you have traveled down your musical journey, you will find yourself surrounded by folks that will be more than willing to share.

Friday night, on the barn stage, is open mic night. Bands are welcomed. On Saturday night we'll be hosting an old time Barn Squaredance.

- Location: Pendarvis Farm is located in Happy Valley with grocery stores and services near by.
- Campsites are primitive with near by water and port-a-potties.
- You'll need to bring your own shelters, tables, chairs, lights, food, tents, or RV's. Ice is available at nearby grocery stores.
- RV's are welcomed, but we do not have hook-ups. Campfires are prohibited. Campers will need to use gas stoves.
- Jam Sessions at the campsites can continue at all hours and into the wee hours of the morning. Please bring your traditional bluegrass and old time instruments. Drums should be left at home.
- Absolutely no pets are allowed. (Sorry! We really do love dogs... Farm Rules!)
- No public telephones are available but cell phones should work fine.
- Cars will be parked in the nearby parking lots. Campsites will be under the cool shade of the forest.
- Please be mindful of your impact on the land and diligently keep up with your trash. Deposit all trash in the main waste dumpster by the camping parking lot when possible.
- Check-in is Friday, September 17th, 12:00 noon. Check out is Sunday afternoon be 2:00.
